Recording LONESOME WHISTLE was the culmination of a dream that began for THE ROYS during childhood. Elaine and Lee were born in Fitchburg, Massachusetts, and the family later relocated to Coal Branch, New Brunswick, Canada. They grew up listening to traditional country and bluegrass music, and realized that their harmonies were a perfect fit for those genres. It wasn't long before the siblings picked up instruments (Elaine - guitar; Lee - bass, drums, guitar and mandolin) and both were performing publicly by the age of 10.

Faith, music and family are the cornerstones of THE ROYS' life and they all intersect on LONESOME WHISTLE. The album showcases Elaine's beautiful, emotion-laden voice and Lee's effervescent tenor. The project also shines a spotlight on the duo's songwriting talents. THE ROYS are excited to make their debut in the bluegrass music community they have loved for so long. These days the duo is receiving validation from musicians they respect, and Lee and Elaine are excited about their future.

THE ROYS have enjoyed high-profile performances, including: Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon in Las Vegas; the National Anthem for the Red Sox at Fenway Park, for President Bush at Andrews Air Force Base and at the Kansas Speedway for the NASCAR Truck Series. THE ROYS are two-time Inspirational Country Music Duo of the Year (2010, 2009), and are spokespersons for Compassion International.

"Traditional, yet fresh, bluegrass...strong songs... gorgeous harmonies...It doesn't get any better than that."
Kyle Cantrell, Bluegrass Junction - Sirius XM Radio

"I've known The Roys for a long time and have heard them just keep getting better and better. This new project is their best yet. I was real proud to be on it."
Ricky Skaggs

"Wow...THE ROYS sound incredible. This sounds like a home run"
Terry Herd, INTO THE BLUE - Bluegrass Radio Network
